About BERGFÜRST

BERGFÜRST is one of the leading German online platforms for digital real estate investments and focuses on the symbiosis between innovative technology and sustainable real assets.

The idea is simple yet powerful: BERGFÜRST's efficient and transparent platform enables everyone to invest in real estate projects and benefit from high interest rates – free of charge and regardless of one's financial situation or social status. In the past, those high quality assets have been reserved for institutional investors only and allowed them to outperform public markets on a regular basis.

At the same time BERGFÜRST offers real estate companies a lean funding process used not only for project developments but also to refinance already existing properties. Thanks to BERGFÜRST being a FinTech, requests can be processed much faster than by traditional banks.

BERGFÜRST was founded in 2011 by Dr. Guido Sandler (founder of Berliner Effektenbank AG and E*Trade Bank AG) and Dennis Bemmann (founder of studiVZ). BERGFÜRST is based in the heart of Berlin.

In order to achieve our ambitious goals together, we offer our employees a positive working atmosphere, short decision-making processes and plenty of scope for developing their individual talents.

We are an experienced team in a still young and constantly growing market environment. This combination of the new and the established is what makes BERGFÜRST special and creates a stimulating, unique working environment.
